

Questions?

Comments?

...ting the wheel. Experience,
...can also be a trap—seducing
...inking we know what to do
...fact, our newest challenge
...an entirely fresh set of
...on-free responses.

What is your team's biggest limiting assumption about the future? If not addressed soon, how will it impact your team's results?

© 2005 www.deloitte.com

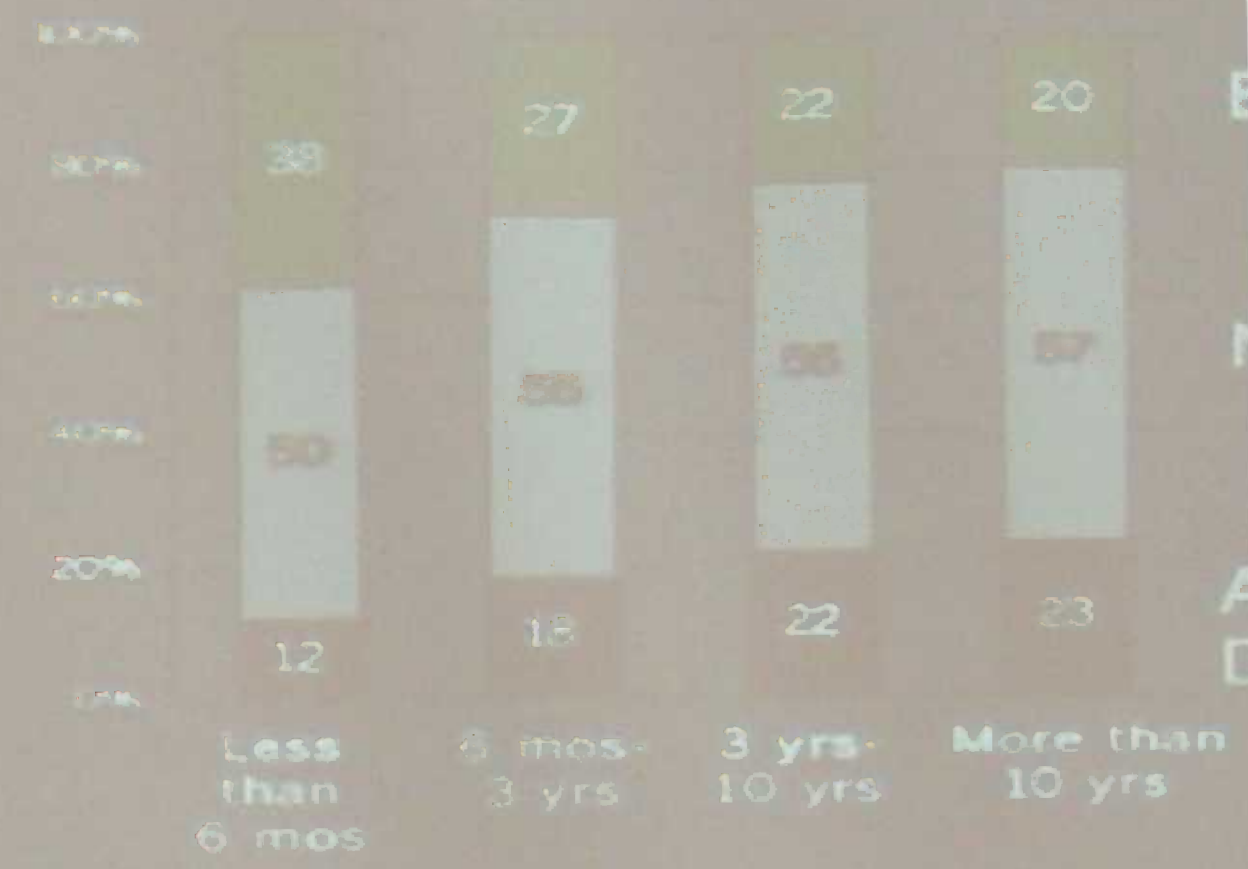

Idea Campaign

The longer employees stay the less engaged they become.

(Source: Gallup dB, 700,000 employees from two years.)

LEADERSHIP. INNOVATION. WORK BRAND. TECHNOLOGY.

Check Your Assumptions

Experience is a great teacher. It's how we learn, saving us countless hours of reinventing the wheel. Experience, however, can also be a trap—seducing us into thinking we know what to do when, in fact, our newest challenge requires an entirely fresh set of assumption-free responses.

What is your team's biggest limiting assumption about culture? If not addressed

Some questions to start

- What are some of the things that really work well with your current suggestion system?
- Why do you think they work?
- What benefits does your company realize as a result?

Establish Trust

If you want to predict how successful your team will be, assess its level of trust. Trust is the heart and soul of teamwork. If your team members have stopped trusting each other, or there was never enough to begin with, stop the show. It's time to get down to the basics.

What is the status of trust on your team? How can it be strengthened in the next 30 days?

NAME
TITLE
ORGANIZATION

NAME
TITLE
ORGANIZATION

CLUB

CAR

